Co-branded asset kit

Excited to share the news?

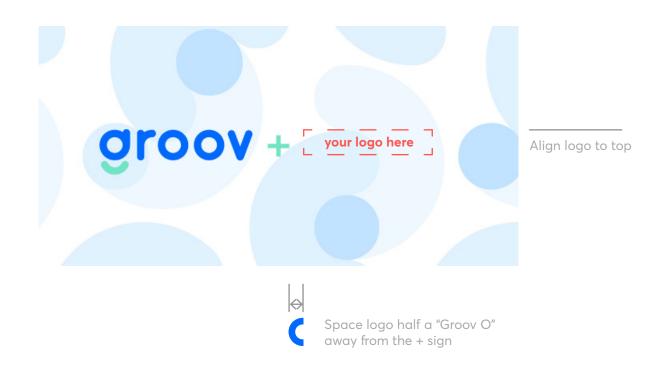

This co-branded asset kit is designed to help you create your own assets to use across your communication channels, including email and social media, or anywhere else you want to share the news!

As well as LinkedIn, Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter, you could pop these assets onto a company announcement, blog post, email to your people, landing page on your website, or post on your internal messaging platform like Slack or Teams.

These fun and friendly assets are a great thing to use to launch your partnership with Groov internally to your people, or spread the news far and wide and show how your organisation are working to make wellbeing the normal way of working for everyone.

All you have to do is add your company logo and you're good to go. Explore all the options below, get creating and think about all the ways you can use them!
